DEGREES

This ancient formula is used by the President in conferring degrees:

The Latin text quoted on the preceding page has introduced Bowdoin's Commencement Program since August 21, 1822. The names of the twenty-four graduates of the Class of 1822 were, for the most part, also translated into Latin for the program. In the early years of the College, each graduating senior was required to deliver a

Commencement "part," an oration on ancient or modern topics, which was frequently given in one of the classical languages, Latin,

Greek, or Hebrew. The national Latin oration was given in 1893, but the tradition of Latin survives in the language used to dedicate the Commencement Exercises and to confer the bachelor of arts degree.

The translation below was provided by Jennifer Clarke Kosak,

Associate Professor of Classics.

Candidati Bowdoini du baccalaureali, assurgite.

Femina honoranda, hosce iuvenes, quos censeo idoneos pro

gradum in artibus, nunc tibi o ero, ut a te instructus, eos ad istum admittam. Placetne? (Placet.)

Pro auctoritate mihi commissa, admitto vos ad primum gradum

artibus, et dono et concedo omnia iura, privilegia, honores ac dignitates, ad gradum istum pertinentia.

Pro officio designati, hanc chartam signetis.

Ornamenta vestrae dignitatis, ad gradum istum pertinentia.

Ornamenta vestrae dignitatis, ad gradum istum pertinentia.

Candidates for the Baccalaureate degrees will rise.

(To the Chair of the Board of Trustees)

May it be good, felicitous, and well-omened:*

To Paul LePage, esteemed Governor;

to the Representatives and Senators who personally preside over the arts and letters for the State of Maine;

and to the honorable and respected Trustees of Bowdoin College;

to Barry Mills, distinguished President;

to the entire academic senate; to the venerable
religious leaders;

in short, to all patrons of the human race everywhere,

the young people hereby initiated into the arts
and letters

most humbly dedicate these exercises.

Held in a gathering of Bowdoin College, in Brunswick,
in the State of Maine,

on the tenth day before the Kalends of June, in the 2015th year of our well-being and in the 239th year of the authority of the United States of America.

* An ancient Roman formula used at the outset of a ritual
to ensure its success.

HONORANDS OF THE COMMENCEMENT

Doctor of Humane Letters (L.H.D.)

Jill Lepore is the David Woods Kemper '41 Professor of American History at Harvard University and a staff writer at The New Yorker. A well-known scholar of early American history, she is a preeminent academic, a gifted teacher, and an esteemed essayist. She writes frequently on topics of American history, law, literature, and politics, and she is the author of ten books, most recently The Secret History of Wonder Woman, an exploration of women's rights in America through the lens of the iconic comic book character. In 2015, she will begin a Guggenheim Fellowship, working on her new book, Dickens in America, an account of the novelist's 1842 American tour. Lepore earned a B.A. in English from Tufts University, an M.A. in American Culture from the University of Michigan, and a Ph.D. in American Studies from Yale University.

Barry Mills was inaugurated as the fourteenth president of Bowdoin College in 2001. He has presided over a period of notable accomplishment and excellence at Bowdoin, and he has been determined and tireless in the pursuit of opportunity and access for students of all socioeconomic backgrounds. The College's position among the very best liberal arts colleges in the nation is a direct reflection of his wise, forward-thinking leadership. Today's student body is the most diverse in the College's history, its alumni are engaged and energized, and Bowdoin's record of financial management is the envy of colleges and universities everywhere. Mills served the College as a member of the Board of Trustees from 1994 until 2000. Prior to his tenure as president of Bowdoin, he served as the deputy presiding partner of Debevoise & Plimpton, one of the nation's preeminent international law firms. He earned an A.B. in biochemistry and government from Bowdoin, a Ph.D. in biology from Syracuse University, and a J.D. from Columbia University.

Karen Mills is a senior fellow at the Harvard Business School and at the Mossavar-Rahmani Center for Business and Government at the Harvard Kennedy School. She is an accomplished business leader with the experience and insights of a keen entrepreneur. Among her many important contributions to the Bowdoin community, she has served as an active mentor, encouraging entrepreneurial aspirations among students. Mills served as Administrator of the US Small Business Administration from 2009–2013. She was a member of President Obama's cabinet and was a key member of the White House economic team. In Maine, she chaired the state's Council on Competitiveness and the Economy and served as a member of the Governor's Council for the Redevelopment of the Brunswick Naval Air Station. In the private sector, Mills founded Solera Capital, served as president of MMP Group, and has served as a board member for a number of corporations. She is a past vice chair of the Harvard Overseers, and is currently a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Harvard Corporation. She earned an A.B. in economics from Harvard University and an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School.

MOLLY NEPTUNE PARKER, Doctor of Fine Arts (D.F.A.)

Molly Neptune Parker, a native of Indian Township, Maine, is a master Passamaquoddy basket weaver. An artist, educator, and community leader, she shares generously of her legacy and expertise. A true tradition-bearer, she has taught generations of tribal members across the country to weave, ensuring the continuance of this once-endangered Native art form. She has served as president of the Maine Indian Basketmakers Alliance and as a master teacher in the Maine Arts Commission's traditional arts apprenticeship program. She has demonstrated her craft at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival and is a recipient of a 2012 National Endowment for the Arts Heritage Fellowship, the nation's highest honor in the folk and traditional arts. Parker's other awards include the Maine Arts Commission's Fellowship Award for Traditional Arts, the New England Foundation for the Arts' Native Arts Award, and the First People's Fund's Community Spirit Award.
