DEGREES

The Latin text quoted on the preceding page has introduced Bowdoin's Commencement Program since August 21, 1822. The names of the twenty-four graduates of the Class of 1822 were, for the most part, also translated into Latin for the program. In the early years of the College, each graduating senior was required to deliver a Commencement "part," an oration on ancient or modern topics, which was equently given in one of the classical languages, Latin, Greek, or Hebrew. The final Latin oration was given in 1893, but the tradition of Latin survives in the language used to dedicate the Commencement Exercises and to confer the bachelor of arts degree. The translation below was provided by Jennifer Clarke Kosak, Associate Professor of Classics.

May it be good, felicitous, and well-omened:*

To Paul LePage, esteemed Governor;

to the Representatives and Senators who personally preside over the arts and letters for the State of Maine;

and to the honorable and respected Trustees of Bowdoin College;

to Clayton Rose, distinguished President;

to the entire academic senate; to the venerable religious leaders;

in short, to all patrons of the human race everywhere,

the young people hereby initiated into the arts and letters most humbly dedicate these exercises.

Held in a gathering of Bowdoin College, in Brunswick, in the State of Maine, on the seventh day before the Kalends of June, in the 2018th year of our well-being and in the 242nd year of the authority of the United States of America.

* An ancient Roman formula used at the outset of a ritual to ensure its success.

This ancient formula is used by the President in conferring degrees:

Candidati pro gradu baccalaureali, assurgite.

Femina honoranda, hosce iuvenes, quos censeo idoneos primum ad gradum in artibus, nunc tibi o ero, ut a te instructus, eos ad gradum istum admittam. Placetne? (Placet.)

Pro auctoritate mihi commissa, admitto vos ad primum gradum in artibus, et dono et concedo omnia iura, privilegia, honores atque dignitates, ad gradum istum pertinentia.

In cuius testimonium hasce membranas litteris scriptas accipite.

Candidates for the Baccalaureate degrees will rise.

(To the Chair of the Board of Trustees)
Honored madam, these young people whom I deem worthy of the first degree in Arts, I now present to you, that, if you so direct, I may admit them to that degree. Is such your will? (It is.)

(To the Candidates)
By virtue of the authority vested in me, I now admit you to the first degree in Arts and do grant and confer upon you all the rights, privileges, honors, and dignities pertaining to that degree.

In witness whereof, receive these diplomas.

NOTE: The Baccalaureate degrees are awarded individually, and the graduating class requests that there be no applause until the last degree is conferred.

At the Commencement Exercises, Bowdoin displays the College flag and the flags of the United States of America, the State of Maine, and the home or dual-citizenship countries or territories of graduating students—in 2018, Australia, Brazil, Canada, People's Republic of China, Denmark, France, Germany, Ghana, Honduras, Hong Kong SAR, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Kenya, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Mexico, Netherlands, Philippines, Poland, Republic of Korea, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, United Kingdom, and Vietnam.

HONORANDS OF THE 2018 COMMENCEMENT

CHIMAMANDA NGOZI ADICHIE, [illegible]

Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie grew up on the campus of the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, where her father was a professor and her mother the first female registrar. She entered the university to study medicine and pharmacy, but le for the US at nineteen. Adichie graduated summa cum laude om Eastern Connecticut State University with a degree in communication and political science, and subsequently received a master's in creative writing om Johns Hopkins and a master of arts in A ican history om Yale. Adichie's work has been translated into over thirty languages. Her first novel, Purple Hibiscus, won the Commonwealth Writers' Prize, and her second novel, Half of a Yellow Sun, won the Orange Prize, now the Baileys Women's Prize for Fiction. In 2008, Adichie earned a coveted MacArthur "Genius Grant" Fellowship. Her novel Americanah received the US National Book Critics Circle Award and was named one of the New York Times' Top Ten Best Books of 2013. Adichie's 2009 TED Talk, The Danger of a Single Story, is one of the top-ten most-viewed TED Talks, with over five million views. Her 2012 TED talk, We Should All Be Feminists, was published as a book in 2014. Her most recent book is Dear Ijeawele, or a Feminist Manifesto in Fi een Suggestions.

H MA . CECH, [illegible]

Thomas R. Cech is a Nobel Prize-winning chemist, former president of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, and distinguished professor and director of the Bio ontiers Institute at the University of Colorado. A er earning his undergraduate degree at Grinnell College and his PhD om the University of California–Berkeley, he did postdoctoral research at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and then joined the faculty of the University of Colorado–Boulder. In 1982 Cech and his research group discovered self-splicing RNA in Tetrahymena, providing the first exception to the long-held belief that biological reactions are always catalyzed by proteins. Cech became a Howard Hughes Medical Institute investigator in 1988 and distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry in 1990. From 2000 to 2009, he served as president of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, the largest private biomedical research organization in the US. He has now returned to full-time research and teaching at the University of Colorado–Boulder. Cech's work has been recognized by many national and international awards and prizes in addition to the Nobel Prize, including the Heineken Prize of the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences, the Albert Lasker Basic Medical Research Award, the National Medal of Science, and election to the US National Academy of Sciences.

The formal academic attire that distinguishes faculty and graduates at academic ceremonies is a symbol at once vertical and horizontal. It stretches back into history, to the roots of academic institutions, while at the same time it forms a bond of union among contemporary academic scholars.

The gown, cap, and hood, which would certainly seem quaint today if worn on our city streets, were originally the ordinary apparel of our medieval ancestors. The gowns varied in elegance according to the rank and wealth of the owners, and the hood had the practical function of being pulled over the head for warmth. Many of the medieval universities had strict rules on the subject; at Oxford, for example, the master of arts had to swear that he owned the dress prescribed for his degree and that he would wear it on all proper occasions. Undergraduates were required to wear their gowns whenever they appeared in the public street. A er the sixteenth century in Europe di erent styles prevailed, but the older style was retained for certain legal, o cial, clerical, and, especially, academic uses.

In America the gown has been used to some extent since colonial times. It was only in the late nineteenth century, however, that widespread interest—sparked perhaps by the observance in 1886 of the 250th anniversary of the founding of Harvard—brought about several developments. In 1887 an enterprising member of the graduating class of Williams College designed academic gowns for the graduates to wear at the Commencement ceremony. The garb was significant and dignified; it was both traditional and democratic; it answered a need, and it quickly became popular. In 1895 an intercollegiate code, standardizing the design and the color of each part of the academic regalia, was accepted by nearly all American colleges and universities.

The gown is usually black, and the cut of the sleeves di ers for bachelors, masters, and doctors. In addition,
